

Around & About:

Catoctin Creek Distillery – 120 West Main Street Purcellville

540-751-8404 or www.catoctincreekdistilling.com

Catoctin Creek® was founded by Becky and Scott Harris in 2009 as the first legal distillery in Loudoun County since before Prohibition. We are located in Purcellville, Virginia, in the heart of the Loudoun Valley. Virginia is the birthplace of American whiskey, and at Catoctin Creek, we faithfully dedicate ourselves to that tradition, producing Virginia's most awarded whisky today—Roundstone Rye!

The name "Catoctin" is a regional name. Pronounced Ka-TOCK-tin, the name derives from the Indian tribal name "Kittocton" which, legend has it, meant "place of many deer". Catoctin describes a range of mountains and the creek which flows picturesquely past the distillery and into the Potomac River and Chesapeake Watershed.

At Catoctin Creek, we believe in high quality food and spirits. Organic means higher quality: grain and fruit, sourced locally when possible, free of pesticides and chemical additives that would come through in the spirits we produce. Sure, it is more difficult to produce organically, but the results speak for themselves.

Dirt Farm Brewing – 18701 Foggy Bottom Road Bluemont, Virginia 20135

540-554-2337 or www.dirtfarmbrewing.com

Dirt Farm Brewing is a Family owned and operated Farm Brewery in Loudoun County. We are comfortably nestled in Blue Ridge Mountains 1 mile outside of the village of Bluemont. Once a weekend retreat built in the 1940's is now the rustic home of our tasting room with plenty of seating. From plow to pint, our focus is small batch hand crafted beer from fresh ingredients grown on our family farm, Great Country Farms. Our 10bbl brewhouse delivers traditional brewing style ales and many farm fresh seasonals.

The Brewery is a natural “fermentation” extension to our 400 acre farm. The Zurschmeide family has been farming in Loudoun County for over 40 years. Our name, “Dirt Farm” pays homage to our farming heritage that spans three generations. We are grateful to work and play surrounded by our own family and many friends. We welcome you to bring yours & slow down a bit the Country.

It is an exciting time in the Virginia Craft Beer Industry. We have only scratched the surface with farming and beer. No farms, no beer! With our newly established 3 acre hop yard, 10 acres in grain, and all the farms bounty we look forward to growing craft beer in Loudoun!

Great Country Farms – 18780 Foggy Bottom Road Bluemont, Virginia 20135

Great Country Farms is a 400 acre working farm situated at the base of the Blue Ridge Mountains outside the village of Bluemont, VA. Great Country Farms offers produce as well as the farm experience to its customers.

The Zurschmeide Family has been farming in Loudoun County since the 1970s and Great Country Farms was started by the second generation of Zurschmeides in Loudoun in 1993. The farm started with a Community Supported Agriculture Program (CSA) which has grown over the years and delivers produce to homes as far as Alexandria and Arlington. In 1996 and again in 2007, the Loudoun County Chamber of Commerce voted Great Country Farms, “Agribusiness of the Year” for its unique efforts to farm in a difficult climate through innovation, rather than selling out and growing houses. We are thrilled to still be a family farm in our growing county!

We owe it all to Farmer Bob for instilling a love of farming in us. He still visits the farm regularly on weekends to continue that tradition for the new generation of farm visitors and can often be found in the tasting rooms at Bluemont Vineyard or Dirt Farm Brewing, our sister businesses up the mountain. Be sure to look for him on your next visit. As our farm grows, we are thrilled to welcome the next generation of Zurschmeides in the fields, running the tasting rooms, making Kettle Corn, and escorting the Pumpkin Princess of course!

We welcome you to visit our farm, pick some produce, create some memories and begin your own farm adventure as part of our farm family.

Old 690 Brewing – 15670 Ashbury Church Road, Purcellville, VA 20132

540-668-7023 or www.old690.com

About 4 years ago, Old 690 Brewing Company was conceived around a fire one night while camping with good friends. And...in 2014 our dream became a reality when our 7BBL brew system found a new home on a beautiful 10 acre family owned property near historic Hillsboro Virginia.

As one of Virginia's first limited breweries our goal is simple – to make great beer that brings people together using as many local resources as possible from local wood barrels to malts and hops. Come visit our hop yard when in season...it's an experience if you've never been in one!

At Old 690 our philosophy is to always have a variety of fresh beer on tap across a broad spectrum of styles to make it easy to find your perfect pint. From our standard Old 690 "Beer" which is a delicious Blonde Ale to far the end of your taste buds with some great IPA's and Sours. With over 60 great beer recipes we are sure you won't go home thirsty.

Breaux Vineyards – 36888 Breaux Vineyards Lane Purcellville

540-668-6299 or www.breauxvineyards.com

In 1994 the Breauxs found themselves captivated with a picturesque piece of Virginia landscape that would rapidly evolve into one of the fastest growing wineries in Virginia. Along with scenic views, there were 3 acres of grapes on the 404 acre property that were planted in 1985. Those original grapes captured the heart of Paul Breaux, President and CEO of Breaux Vineyards, and sparked his entrepreneurial spirit.

The Breauxs soon began making hobbyist wines. Discovering that their home-produced wines were more popular among friends and guests than many commercial offerings, the Breauxs collaborated with Dave to begin producing commercial wines at an even higher level of quality by investing in all new state-of-the-art wine making equipment and using proven vineyard practices, such as planting, harvesting and sorting by hand. In April of 1997, Breaux Vineyards opened its doors to the public.
